“My grace is sufficient for you for my power is made perfect in weakness (2 Cor. 12:9).”

I believe this is the verse that describes my journey as a believer in the Lord Jesus.

I have been a Christian since childhood, and for the last 27 years I have been working for the Gospel of the Lord as a pastor, preacher, teacher, spiritual director and church-planter.

I have had my share of joys and sorrows in serving him. I wouldn't have gone this far except for the grace of God. The Lord has given me friends, family, partners, and supporters who have prayed, encouraged, trusted, financially supported and loved me all these years.

I praise the Lord because while I serve him through his church, and have been given opportunities to advance the cause of his kingdom, he shapes me at the same time into the kind of person that he wants me to be. It has been my great joy to see people grow in the Lord, and to serve and love his church. I have no material evidence to show how many came to the Lord through the ministry he gave me, but I have a record in my heart of the Lord's faithfulness in my life and in the lives of my family.

I have nothing to boast except what the Lord has done to and through me. The AMEN family has been our companion for so many years in the work of the gospel among the poor in Manila, and I am full of gratitude for all of them. AMEN has advanced the cause of the poor in the churches in England and they have responded generously. Bringing people to the Lord is my vocation and this is what I intend to do for the rest of my life. I thank God for giving me this opportunity.
